

Branimir Pavlinec

Branimir Pavlinec is Head of the environmental sector in Institute for Environment and Nature at Ministry of Economy and Sustainable Development. He is responsible for strategic and financial planning, providing comprehensive and complex advice and opinions within the scope of the sector, coordinates the development and implementation of obligations arising from contracts with national and international institutions in the development and implementation of environmental programs and projects, leads and coordinates the development of national and international reports related to the state of the environment, coordinates and develops the system of monitoring the state of the environment in the Republic of Croatia in accordance with EU standards and regulations, coordinates or supervises customer support and education, coordinates data collection, processing and presentation.

He has degree in Master engineering in Geodesy - Cartography and Photogrametry from Faculty of Geodesy, University of Zagreb. He took up duties in Ministry of Economy and Sustainable Development, in 2019 as Head of the environmental sector in Institute for Environment and Nature. Prior to being employed at Ministry he was Head of IT sector, and later as Assistant Director of Environmental Monitoring and Development of Information Systems in Croatian agency for environment and nature in Zagreb.